

The Parental Insight Focus

Virtual Witness Program

Parental Insight continues its commitment to parent-child school-advocacy through its Virtual Witness Program.

As one of our most requested programs, children and teachers are encouraged to capture video of taunting and coercive behavior in and after school. The video is then uploaded to a secure site for parent review.

The program also brings together both law enforcement and legal departments to help parents both prosecute and bring civil litigation against families that allow such behavior.

By encouraging youth to actively, combat bullying even while participating on social web sites like Facebook, Twitter, and other online Chat sessions, a means to stop bullying is created.

Parental Insight maintains, “No student should be afraid of physical harm from their peers while trying to get an education”.

The organization exists to extend parental capability into the learning environment through innovative and effective information management solutions.

Upload your video to virtualwitness@parentalinsight.org for financial consideration of your submission*.
